

JINX

(Taking two clippings from his pocket)

The Wilkes-Barre Chronicle, April 19th, 1959. "Bobby Darin sells out at the Crystal Room of the Sheraton. Don't worry, there are plenty of seats across the street at the Swinglane Alleys, where the Ladies Championship Bowling League will be crooned to by local singing group, Forever Plaid. This group's sound is to contemporary music as formica is to marble."

FRANCIS

JINX

Our heads would rest between his knees and he would rest his knees on either side of our heads. He'd keep time to the music by bopping his kneecaps against our ears. It could get intense if the music was fast.